POSITIVE THINKING SKILLS

Positive thinking is a powerful tool that can improve your health, help you manage stress, overcome challenges, and make better choices. Everyone can benefit from improving their positive thinking skills! The idea is that by changing your thinking, you can stay calm and solution-focused. Positive thinking skills often start with positive-self talk, which means using the voice in your head to say positive thoughts about yourself or a situation.

Use the list of positive thoughts and affirmations by reading them, discussing how they might help, and identifying which phrases would work best for you. Different phrases are going to work better for different people, and that's okay. Find the ones that work best for you! Write your top 10 favorite positive affirmations down.
